“A man’s heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps.” Proverbs 16:9 KJV

Like many of you our plans have changed numerous times over the last months. Plans in ministry, in personal lives, church, and work continue to change with how we are able to minister and conduct the plans we have made. But like this verse of scripture says-man’s plans, but the Lord directs our steps. I am thankful for that despite our plans God has our steps directed.

Lesa and I celebrated our 40th wedding anniversary on August 3rd. We had saved for years to take our dream vacation to Alaska for several days, and of course we were not able to take that trip as travel on cruise ships and trains through Canada and Alaska are not taking place at this time. We rebooked for next year as plans changed. We didn’t travel anywhere but we just took a few days to spend time together and eat at some of our favorite local restaurants.

I have taken sometime this month to clean up the shop and do some maintenance work on equipment that is used in the shop and traveling. Also, I was able to do a little maintenance on the shop doors and the building itself. We are blessed to have the shop and most of the equipment needed to perform repairs for missionaries and churches. When we built the shop in Acworth, GA we funded the build with personal funds that the Lord paid off in a few years...The LORD is GOOD!

We also spent about $ 25,000 personally to add the equipment we were lacking for repairs. Through the years we have been able to pay this amount down to $ 8,500. We would like to pay off this debt in the next months to come. Would you please pray with us about that? We know the Lord will provide a way if we pray earnestly. The Lord has allowed us to be blessed by having this shop and equipment to serve people.

August of course in the south has continued to be warm weather wise. I have been able to help out some local families who have young children with health issues with their air conditioning system needs (wasn’t working) in their vehicle. We were able to make these repairs at no cost to them. Some other repairs were completed to a college student’s vehicle for them to return to school. We like to help out the young Christian students whenever we can as many of them are great witnesses at their schools for the Lord, and that is not a popular thing to be seen these days.

Lesa and I did take a long weekend at the end of the month to travel to Ohio and celebrate our grandson, Connor’s first birthday. We are so excited they are a little closer and we can see them more times during the year. As many of you know, your grandchildren seem to grow up twice as fast as your children do.

God has been good to the Macedonian Mechanics Ministry. In a time when many churches can’t meet regularly and a slowed uncertain economy, we have received offerings which are allowing us to complete and start several major projects on vehicles to be given and delivered to missions.

Thank you for your continued prayers and support.
